For more than a year NT Window employees set out with a plan to support those faced with breast cancer in a very big way. With the company's Windows of Hope™ team in place, they set out to meet an aggressive goal to raise $30,000 to support the Susan G. Komen 3-Day fundraiser to support those who are facing or will face breast cancer.

“It is hard to find someone whose life has not been touched by cancer,” said Ryon Ray, Chief Operating Officer at NT Window. “And with the statistics showing that 12% of women born today will be diagnosed with breast cancer at some point during their lifetime, this cause has become even more important to our team, and our families.”

The company raised funds all year through many great efforts; both large and small. The local community was able to participate through hosted pancake breakfast events, carwashes and one huge yard sale. A special collection of Windows of Hope™ apparel was created and then sold through the large network of industry contacts, suppliers, dealers, family and friends of NT Window. At the end, with the addition of several corporate sponsors and many personal donations received, the team raised more than $22,000 to support the cause.

On November 2nd the team embarked on the final phase of this great effort by taking the first step of the symbolic 60 mile walk that the Susan G. Komen Foundation has made so popular in efforts to fight cancer. “We were humbled by the amount of support and effort given to this cause by our employees and grateful to our community for their part in this success. We are even more excited for what is to come with future efforts as this journey does not end here,” added Ray. “Its events like these that inspire us and cause us to do something to help change things...to come together and support each other as we work to raise funds to support those in our country who are most in need.”
